

The 24th Taiwan Geometry Symposium

Date/ 05/13/2023

Venue/ *Lecture Room B, 4th Floor,
The 3rd General Building, NTHU*

Aim & Scope

The purpose of the Taiwan Geometry Symposium is to foster discussions and interactions within the geometry community in Taiwan. It hopes to meet regularly in the years to come, running on a Saturday from late morning to late afternoon, with 3 speakers.

The activity usually rotates among Taipei, Hsin-Chu and Tainan. We encourage everyone who is interested in Geometry, and particularly students, postdoctoral fellows and young scholars to participate in the Symposium. This semester's symposium will be held at National Tsing Hua University.

We hope to use this symposium to foster discussions and interactions within the geometry community in Taiwan and also discuss the future activities and directions the geometry group of NCTS.
